AUO normally holds its Global Partner Summit every two years as a policy and strategy conference for its suppliers. However, with the 2020 event being canceled due to COVID-19, the recent summit was the first in four years.

AUO also held an awards ceremony during the meeting to recognize its top suppliers. In the ceremony, the SCREEN FT Group received an Excellent Equipment Partners Award. The Group was represented by SCREEN FT plus FEBACS Co., Ltd., which provides maintenance services to AUO, and SCREEN FT Taiwan Co., Ltd., which handles its customer support.

This award is given to manufacturers of display production equipment that have made an outstanding contribution to AUO's business, with only four companies recognized at the 2022 summit. However, the SCREEN FT Group actually received the same award at the last event in 2018.

During the judging and selection process, AUO highly evaluated the range of display production equipment provided by the SCREEN FT Group, particularly its flagship SK and SK-E series of coater/developers. More specifically, AUO was impressed by its quality, service support, flexibility with delivery deadlines, handling of inquiries, customization proposals, and presentations introducing new products, all of which have made a significant contribution to AUO's current initiative to build a smart factory.

Encouraged by this award, the SCREEN FT Group will continue to work as one to build even stronger relationships of trust with its customers. As an industry-leading manufacturer of display production equipment, this will involve supplying products of outstanding quality as well as service and solutions that fully satisfy customer expectations.
